Get Behind The Diamond Jubilee Celebration—Make July 1st and 2nd Real Jubilant Days!

Order of Service in National Thanksgiving
July 3 AnnouncedSunday Set Apart for General
Praise to Honored Builders of Canada

A form of national thanksgiving service has been prepared by the National Committee for the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation to be used on Sunday, July 3, throughout the Dominion. It is the form which will be followed at the thanksgiving ceremony under the direction of the Governor General.

The service opens with the Old Hundredth "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." This will be followed by a prescribed reading commemorative of the pioneers and settlers who laid our country's foundations:

"It is appropriate that the first note of thanksgiving should also be commemorative of the early pioneers and settlers who by their labors laid the foundations of our nation. The words of the following hymn have been sung through many generations and in many lands. They acquire a new significance as they call to mind the trials and privations of those heroic men and women who, in deep forest or lonely clearing, made the first Canadian homes. Leaving behind many of their own kin and friends and the securities and comforts of civilization, they brought with them a high courage, firm endurance, and an abiding faith in the God of their fathers."

Then shall be sung by all present the hymn, "O God of Bethel! By Whose Hand Thy People Still Are Fed."

This will be followed by the "Jubilate," "O be Joyful in the Lord All Ye Lands." (Psalm C.)

Lord's Prayer

The text of the Lord's Prayer, as used at the opening of each of the proceedings in the Parliament of Canada, will be then read:

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed by Thy name, Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done in Earth, as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.—Amen.

Fathers of Confederation

This will be followed by a reading commemorative of the Fathers of Confederation:

"The value and interest of history are derived chiefly from the lives and services of the men whom it commemorates. Without these the progress of the nation would be little worth recording. Upon this day of national thanksgiving it is fitting to recall the eminent services of the Fathers of Confederation, through whose efforts the scattered provinces of Canada have been united under one constitution. Our appreciation of their greatness increases with the passing years. To follow in their footsteps in devoted service to our country is the highest tribute we can pay to their memory. Expression is given to this tribute in the words of the following hymn:"

Following this will be sung the hymn, "Lord, while for mankind we pray, Of every clime and coast, O hear us for our native land, The land we love the most."

"Special Psalm
Then comes a special psalm to be read aloud by all present:

1. Therefore thou shalt keep the Order of Parades on July 1st and 2nd

July 1st, Children's Parade

The children will gather in Central School grounds at 9:15 a. m.; when Mayor W. J. Burns will address them. Parade will then be formed headed by the Town Band and Boy Scouts. The parade will leave school grounds by the gate opposite hospital, proceeding down Mayfair Ave. to 1st street, along 1st street to Paulson Ave., up Paulson Ave. to 2nd street, along 2nd street to Central Ave., then up Central Ave. to Sports Grounds. On reaching sports grounds the children will receive first blessing of lunch, and will be expected to seat themselves in orderly manner so that quick and efficient service can be rendered them. Children will be required to bring their own cups and mugs in order to receive their supply of milk, as it will be impossible for the committee to provide them. Mayor W. J. Burns will then officially open the sports.

In the event of the weather being unfavorable, the children's parade will not take place, and they will meet in the Arena at the same time instead.

July 2nd, Adults Parade

The same order will prevail on July 2nd, except that the procession will line up along 2nd street, with the east end opposite the hospital as the starting point at 9:20 a. m.

The order of procession will be as follows: Town Band, Boy Scouts, Auxiliaries of the various churches, Salvation Army, Women's Institute, Ladies Fraternal Societies, Fraternal Orders and Miners Union, then Floats or Decorated Cars not representative of any of the organizations followed by individuals in costume.

The sports committee suggest in order to make a distinction between the various organizations taking part, that some type of Banner be used by each.

A. Phillips and A. Jones Win
Fishing Competition Prizes

The Coleman Rod and Gun Club opened the fishing season on June 19th with a fishing competition in which about forty members took part. All were very keen in the effort to take home the bacon, and an interesting and pleasant day was spent.

The rules required that the anglers hook "em all from shore between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., and Crow's Nest Lake was selected as the scene of battle. A. Phillips captured the prize for the finest speckled trout—a rod. In the bull trout event, Arthur Jones was the winner of a nice prize.

On July 10th a similar competition will be held by the club at Lundbrook Falls.

Indian Population Increasing

The Indian population of the three prairie provinces continued to increase during the past year, according to the report of the Dominion Department of Indian Affairs. The present Indian population on the reserves is distributed as follows: Alberta, 9,063; Saskatchewan, 14,466; and Manitoba, 11,775. There was a natural increase in this area during the year of 368. In addition there are a number of Indian bands in far northern districts which are not yet under treaty. These bring the estimated Indian population of the three provinces up to some 36,000.

Alex. Rankin of Coleman
Beats John Durnie of Calgary in First Quits Match

The Coleman Quoting Club opened their new grounds here on Saturday afternoon of last week with a match between John Durnie, Calgary champion, and Alex. Rankin of Coleman, premier quoter of The Pass, the latter winning, 33 to 17. Much interest was apparent in the match as there are many followers of the game in Coleman.

The visitor was obviously not playing in his usual form, but throughout the interest was maintained by the many fine shots of both players.

Coleman Cubs Win Both
Games With Bellevue

The local baseball aggregation have made a very auspicious start this year, having played three games to date and come out on top in each contest. On Friday last week the Bellevue team met the local Cubs on the Coleman diamond and the home boys had no difficulty in stowing away the game 14 to 4. A return match was played at Bellevue on Monday evening of this week and again Coleman emerged victorious by 11 runs to 5 for Bellevue.

Confederation Services
at St. Paul's Church

The Sunday Schools of the United Church will hold their Confederation Service on Sunday next, June 26th. A new and appropriate order of service has been issued for the occasion under the caption "The Message of the Bells."

For this occasion the Sunday School will not hold its regular session but will unite with the congregation at eleven o'clock when a joint service will be held. These combined services for Mothers' and Rally day are always very successful and this service should be no exception to the rule. Parents are asked to come with their children and the public generally are invited.

Coleman Branch Canadian Legion in New Quarters.

Owing to the lease expiring on their present building, the Coleman branch of the Canadian Legion are on Friday moving into new quarters opposite the tennis courts known as the Racott building. The Journal scribe recently paid a visit to the new home of the club and was highly pleased to find such commodious and well appointed quarters, making one of the coziest little clubs in The Pass.

The Legion are opening their new quarters with a free smoker tomorrow (Friday) evening, commencing at 8:30 sharp. A special invitation is extended to all ex-service men, whether members or not, to come and look the club over and have an old time sing song.

Mr. W. Warren recently resigned as steward of the club and Mr. W. Graham has taken over this important position. "Bill" is a good man for the job and the members are assured of efficient and courteous service at all times from Mr. Graham. Mr. W. Burrows has taken Mr. Graham's place as president, while Mr. P. Smith will fill the office of secretary.

First Solemn High Mass
In Holy Ghost Church.

On Sunday, June 19th, the Rev. Father Rosiecki, who was ordained on Trinity Sunday in St. Mary's Cathedral, Calgary, by His Lordship, Rt. Rev. Bishop Kidd, sang his first solemn high mass in Holy Ghost church, Coleman. He was assisted by Rev. Father Szudarek as Archpriest, Rev. Father Harrington, Blaimore as Deacon, and Rev. Father Cosman as Sub-Deacon.

This was a great day for the Parish of Coleman, as it was the first time in the history of the parish that a first solemn high mass was ever sung here.

After the gospel of the day, Rev. Father Szudarek, of Edmonton, delivered a very stirring sermon on "The Dignity of the Priesthood," to a very large congregation. After the mass Rev. Father Rosiecki gave his individual blessing to all present.

On Wednesday evening the parishioners assembled in the Parish Hall to do honor to the young priest, Rev. Father Rosiecki, when an "At Home" was held in his honor. The evening was spent in music, cards, and a general get-together social time. At the close a bountiful lunch was served, after which several speeches were made, and an address read and a substantial purse was presented to Rev. Father Rosiecki.

Coleman Branch Junior
Red Cross Active.

The Cameron School Junior Red Cross has completed the work for the school year. The members have had a most successful year and have contributed in many ways to the pleasure and comfort of the patients in the hospital in Calgary.

The following is a list of their contributions:—$8.75 membership fees; $2.50 subscriptions to the magazines; $7.00 collected in the money box; 250 lbs. vegetables; 60 dozen eggs; 2 boxes of toys at Christmastime; an exchange portfolio for Pleasant Street School, Ballarat, Australia. They have also made it possible for Steve Labdik to be admitted to the hospital for treatment.

This work could not be accomplished without the aid of the parents of the children, and credit is due to them that they encourage the children in the "giving and helping spirit." The children again wish to thank those who helped with the portfolio.

Come On Out!

No. 1 Troop Boy Scouts are going to Lee Lake on Friday, July 28th, where they will spend a couple of weeks under canvas. Scoutmaster George Brown will be in charge of the boys who are looking forward to having the time of their lives.

Mrs. Alex. McKinnon left on Monday morning for Kimberley, where she will spend the next two weeks.

Junior Tennis
Finals Wednesday

The Junior tennis club has completed its preliminary matches and will play off the remaining semi-final events on Saturday. Then, if the present fine tennis weather continues they will be all ready to play off the three final matches on Wednesday, the 29th.

Saturday, June 25th, boy's semi-finals, Price vs. Dunlop, Hayson vs. McLeod. Two winners will play off.

Senior Girls semi-finals, E. Fairhurst vs. Bell. Winner will play D. Burns.

In the junior girls event, Anna McLeod plays Mary Corbett.

This year there were over forty entries among the junior members and all the preliminary events were completed without a hitch. This success was owing to the very capable management of Ethel Wilson and Fraser McLeod, who were in charge of the tournament.

Bronze Medals are on order now and will be presented to the winners shortly after the completion of the tournament.

O Canada

O Canada; our home, our native land,
True patriot love in all thy sons command.

With glowing hearts we see thee rise,
The true North strong and free;
We stand on guard, O Canada,
We stand on guard for thee

Chorus.

O Canada, Glorious and free:
We stand on guard, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada, we stand on guard for thee.

O Canada: where pines and maples grow.

Great prairie spread and lordly rivers flow,
How dear to us thy broad domain,
From east to western sea—
Thou land of hope for all who toil,
Thou true North, strong and free.

O Canada: beneath thy shining skies,
May stalwart sons and gentle maidens rise,
To keep thee steadfast through the years,
From east to western sea—
Our own beloved native land,
Our true North, strong and free.

Ruler Supreme, who hearest humble prayer,
Hold our Dominion in Thy loving care.

Help us to find, O God, in Thee
A lasting, rich reward,
As waiting for a better day,
We ever stand on guard.

—R. Stanley Weir.

British Force Was Adequate

Would Eventually Have Won War Without U.S. Aid Says Earl Haig

The belief that the British armies would eventually have gained the victory in the world war, even if the United States had not intervened, is held by Field Marshal Earl Haig, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces in France and Flanders from 1915 to 1919.

Addressing the British Empire Service League, he strongly protested against what he described as a national tendency to belittle the part Great Britain played in winning the war.

He referred not fully to the share of the allies, but contended that although without United States intervention the result might have been delayed it would have been the same. The field marshal maintained that for the last 18 months of the war the armies of the British Empire carried on their shoulders the main burden of the struggle and carried it to victory.

"The national tendency to belittle our own achievements fostered and encouraged by political considerations," he declared, "has led us to ascribe our victory to the fortune of our country, to the military genius of the allies, to the intervention of our enemies; to the intervention of America, to anything rather than the true cause, namely, the heroic fighting qualities of the British armies and the endurance, loyalty and discipline of British people in all quarters of the world."

"If America had not come in, we would not, perhaps, have forced the enemy to surrender in 1918, for with our American reserves in existence, they would have been unable to risk throwing the whole force of the British army into the tremendous series of battles which brought the war to a sudden and, according to many politicians, unexpected end, but we should have won in the end all the same."

As for the mistakes of Germany, he said she only made two serious errors, first, when she began the war under conditions which brought in the British Empire, and, second, when she lost the war.

Honors Canadian Soldiers

More Pays Tribute to Men Who Brought Relief to City

Heartfelt recognition of what the Canadian soldiers had done in capturing the city of Mons, where the final shot in the war was fired and the city restored to its freedom after 50 months of German occupation, was given by Burgomaster Maltrud, at Mons, at the unveiling of the plaque in commemoration of the heroic entry of the Canadian corps into the city.

The Burgomaster replied on behalf of the city to the eloquent address of Hon. Rodolphe Lennox, speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, and to tributes paid by other taking part in the ceremony.

Burgomaster Maltrud paid glowing praise to the heroism of the Canadians and spoke of the deep gratitude of the people of Mons for the relief they had brought to the city. As a special mark of recognition, the Burgomaster announced that the following had been made honorary citizens of Mons:

General Sir Henry E. Horne, Commander of the First Army in whose territory the Canadians operated; Lieut-General Sir Arthur Currie, Commander of the Canadian Corps; Major-General F. G. W. Loomis, in command of the third Canadian Division, and Brig-General J. A. Clark, who was in command of the seventh Canadian Brigade, whose troops were the first to enter Mons. The latter had also been made a member of the Mons Bar, the Burgomaster said.

Special Classes at Brandon

Open Only to Amateurs at Manitoba Provincial Exhibition

Special attention is being directed to the Manitoba Live Stock show at the Provincial Exhibition of Manitoba. These classes include sheep and both dairy and beef breeds in cattle. They are open to amateurs only, amateurs to be classed as those never having shown at a class "A" fair outside the province. The Yorkshire and Holstein breeds are to be well represented in these classes and it is expected there will be a good representation of Aberdeen-Angus, Short-horns and Herefords.

Bottled Sunshine Predicted

That sunshine may be bottled and sent to any part of the world is a scientific possibility according to a report recently read before the Association of German Chemists in Berlin. The Germans believe that by means of huge sun engines along the Nile, water can be converted into hydrogen, which can be transported to colder regions of the world in quartz bottles and later burned for light and heat.

Noted British Author Dead

"Three Men in a Boat" Endears Jerome to Thousands

Jerome K. Jerome, noted British author died at Northampton, England, from cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Jerome, who was perhaps best known for his "Three Men in a Boat," was stricken at Northampton while a motor tour of France and was placed in a hospital. While his condition continued serious recent reports were to the effect that he had been improving and news of his death came as a shock.

The adventures of "Three Men" on a river holiday cruise in England endeared Mr. Jerome to the English reading world at the beginning of 90's, placing him in the front rank of English humorists, although the author, noted for a suave and whimsical felicity of style, was also identified with the stage and play writing.

Of his plays, the "Passing of Stanley," a daughter of a House of Lords, achieved a wide popularity.

After the Great War, Mr. Jerome urged a "peace without hate." With others he signed an appeal asking that the peace terms be modified.

Jerome Kings Jerome was born at Walsall, England, on May 2, 1859, and was the only surviving son of Rev. Jerome Clapp Jerome. He was married in 1884 to Georgina Henrietta Stanley, a daughter of a Baronet in the Spanish army.

Following his grammar school studies at Marylebone, Jerome in turn became a clerk, schoolmaster, actor, journalist and playwright. He was for more than 20 years one of the best known writers in England and was widely read in America. His last book, a biography, was one of the most widely commented upon works of the sort in Great Britain.

Believes in Aviation Future

Exploration Has Succumbed to Modern Methods Says Amundsen

Even exploration, the oldest urge of mankind, has succumbed to the expediency of modern methods of travel, and in aviation lies the future discovery of new lands declared Captain Roald Amundsen of polar fame before sailing from Vancouver for Japan.

For this reason Captain Amundsen has abandoned any plans for further exploration and will content himself for the present with re-telling of his travels. His present journey to Japan is for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in the principal Japanese centres.

"Exploring will all be done from the air in future," declared Captain Amundsen. "I am too old to take up flying and I do not intend to start anything which I cannot carry out myself. My trip on the Norge was a mistake. Commander Nobile was a better flier. I am an explorer. We did not see things alike."

"My exploring days are now finished and I prefer to leave while they were at a zenith. I have been following trails since I was 15 and I am content to leave it to the younger generation. My travels from now on into the northern country will be with a gun and a rod," he said. He also stated he was particularly interested in the Northern part of Canada above Athabasca and he hoped to be able to traverse the trails in that part again.

Making Concrete Lighter

"Gassing" concrete to give it added lightness is a novel idea reported from Sweden. While the concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel, and cement, is still soft, gas is introduced into the mixture. This has the same effect on the concrete as yeast has on bread. Filling it with small holes. The concrete produced, is just as strong as the ordinary product, but much lighter.

Invention to Test

Quality of Diamonds

French Chemist Obtains Perfect Results With Ultra-Violet Rays

M. Melaval, a French chemist attached to the Lyons police laboratory, has invented a method to test the quality of diamonds by means of ultra-violet rays.

Various attempts have hitherto been made to measure the intensity of the iridescence of these stones by photographic means, but solar light has always proved too diffused for accurate result. M. Melaval has obtained perfect results with ultra-violet rays passed through a screen. The perfect white stones give the clearest picture, yellow stones showing darkest, while imitation diamonds show quite black.

It is claimed that the method will make it impossible to substitute stones of lesser value for real diamonds placed in dispute, for example. All the possessor of the diamonds need do will be to get an ultra-violet ray picture made of them before temporarily giving up the stones and placing a second picture made when they are returned. The method will make it possible to decide the exact quality of any diamond with almost mathematical accuracy.

Life Of Early Canadian Settlers

Primitive Life of First Settlers in Upper Canada

In this jubilee year one may contrast the lot of the immigrant today with his predecessors in old Canada. After the U. E. Loyalists, who had the own trip, the earliest settlers had a long voyage across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel, and travelled there to their destination by the inland waterways or by stage. As they struck out into the wilderness even roads were few and far between. Schools, churches, doctors were non-existent or difficult of access. A rude picture of early settlement in Upper Canada is given by the historian McMillan. He describes the settler going into the woods with no more worldly possessions than a run, an axe and the clothes on his back.

Thus lightly equipped, he took possession of his two hundred acres of closely-timbered forest land and commenced operations. The welkin strikes again with the vigorous strokes as huge tree after tree is assailed and tumbled to earth, and the sun presently shines in upon the little clearing. The best of the logs are partially squared and serve to build a shanty; the remainder are given to the flames. Now the rich mold, the accumulation of centuries of decayed vegetation, is gathered into little hillocks, into which potatoes are dibbled. Indian corn is planted in another direction, and perhaps a little good wheat is sown. The lonely couple struggle on in their forest oasis like the solitary traveller over the sands of Sahara or a boat drift on the Atlantic. The new settlement is a rude affair, and when sickness comes they have to travel far through the forest to claim human sympathy. But fortunately our nature, with elastic temperament, adapts itself to circumstances. By and by the potatoes pop up, and the corn blades modestly show themselves around the charred maple stumps and girdled pines, and the prospect of the sufficiency of food gives consolation.

Approaches, a deer now and then adds to the comforts of the solitary pioneer. Such were the mass of the first settlers in Upper Canada.—London Advertiser.

New Type of Airplane

Invention of French Postman Operated by Compressed Air Motor

A French inventor, named Ernest Dole, of Lespelles, a little town near Avignon, France, who claims to have invented a new form of flying machine to be operated by a compressed air motor and six high-pressure air pipes which would permit instant elevation, placed a model of his invention on exhibition at the town there. juxtaposed to the motor appears a small turbine apparatus which takes in air to replace the air supply which the motor consumes, thereby dispensing with any need of fuel power.

The plane resembles the Santos Dumont model in form. The model shows two transmission pulleys and two propellers, one located over the bow of the machine and the other below midship.

Aside from the compressed air motor which is the most important feature of this invention, the postman's aeroplane distinguishes itself from other flying machines in being able to achieve vertical elevation, and the safety of the pilot is secured through transformation of the wings into para-gliders. The inventor of the machine hopes to give it a trial soon at the aerodrome in Lyons.

Germany Warns Soviets

Says Communistic Propaganda in Other Countries Should be Stopped

German newspaper correspondents, after interviewing Baron Vladimir Stresemann, telegraphed Berlin that Germany had decided to warn Soviet Russia that it was advisable to bring to an end communistic propaganda in other countries. The German foreign minister was quoted as saying it was a great pity that Soviet Russia did unwelcome things which strengthened the hands of her enemies. He believed, however, that responsible persons in Soviet Russia would wish to break with Russia, though "hot heads" in some of them were demanding extreme measures.

THE LURE OF THE TRAIL

This is the season of the year when Mother Nature, garbed in her gayest colors, throbbing with life and energy, pulsing and vibrating with the sap of life, sends forth a subtle, silent, and insistent call to that shred of primitive instinct, that modicum of savagery, that slumbers in the bosom of man.

From rugged mountain peak, from the deep gloom of primeval forest, from prairie road and mountain pack trail, the call is sounded, seductive, pleading, plaintive.

Every murmur from babbling brook, every rustle from swaying treetop, every lapping wave on the shore of woodland lake, echoes that call.

Ring down mountain valley and across the plain, wafted on the wings of the summer breeze, the call is carried to stately cities and crowded factories where men toil all day like galleys sailing chain-

The weary worker hears it, feels it, as he rests momentarily from his labors. It sets the blood tingling in his veins. It tugs at the shackles that bind him to his job. It carries him backward to the fleeting years when, as a barefoot boy, he tramped the woods in search of squirrels and rabbits, or sat on the grassy bank of some placid stream watching for the bob and jerk of the floating cork that would tell him the fish were biting.

It is the call of a mother for her children. It is the cry of a shepherd for his lost sheep. It is the alluring appeal of Mother Nature calling her sons back to the soil.

And every year thousands hear that call, and answer it. From the dark, narrow streets and the thick, smoke laden air of the crowded cities they come; thin, pale faced, weary slaves of industry. They hit the trail for the big outdoors, and for a few weeks they taste the cup of genuine happiness.

Out in the wilds, surrounded by the charms of nature, they eat heartily; they sleep soundly; they feel the urge of life; they revel in the sheer joy of living.

Passengers aboard the Canadian Pacific Empress of Scotland were not deprived of visiting China on the present round-the-world cruise of this ship, on account of the recent trouble in that country. A new Canadian bird, the "turken," has made its appearance. It is a cross between a turkey and a Rhode Island hen, and was first brought to public attention at the Edmonton poultry show. George Spurgeon, who raised it, claims that it will effect a revolution in the poultry business, as it combines the best features of the hen and the turkey. It has a hen body and a turkey head.

Woodpeckers' Convention at Banff

Typical Woodpecker hole in a fir tree. (Inset) Rare photograph of the Dilated Woodpecker.

In one of his lectures delivered at the Banff Springs Hotel, Dan McCowan, the well-known Canadian naturalist, tells a wonderfully interesting story concerning a wild bird convention held in the Canadian Pacific Rockies during the fall of 1926. At that time the new Banff Springs Hotel was under construction and large numbers of structural steel workers were engaged in uprearing the fabric around which a dream palace had been evolved. There was the loud clanging of steel as the heavy girders were lifted and guided into place. Winches rattled and engines hissed incessantly. Above all other sounds rose the staccato "rat-tat-tat" of scores of riveting hammers. Far up the Forty Mile Valley of the Bow this sound was borne; it reached from cliff and crag on grey Mount Rundle, it shattered the silence in the deep green woods that clothe the valleys and the mountain slopes.

Throughout this extensive forested area around Banff and Lake Louise, many woodpeckers are to be found at all seasons of the year. To these feathered foresters came the sound of the riveters at work; it was interpreted by them as the noise of a host of tree boring birds, hammering and drilling in the bark and timber of Douglas Fir and Spruce. Instinctively they hastened to the source of the sound, confident that a keen-eyed and enterprising member of the tribe had discovered an army of tree-infesting grubs and that there would be a feast for all who cared to answer the summons broadcasted so clearly.

The Dilated Woodpecker, a large black-plumaged bird with crest of scarlet, vivid as huntman's coat, flew through the woods like a fiery torch and issued the dim alder cry, echo with his loud and raucous cry, Downy and Hairy Woodpeckers, lesser birds in the ancient order of foresters, clung to the gnarled bark of trees and with heads aslant, hearkened quizzically to this strange drumming of hammers on steel.

Such an assemblage of Woodpeckers had never before been seen in the valley of the Bow. The woods seemed alive with birds of this breed. Unlike most conventions held at Banff, this one could hardly be termed a success. No doubt the birds were disillusioned and deeply disappointed that the promised fast did not materialize. Nevertheless there must have been compensation in the number of family re-unions made possible by the call of the hammers that fashioned the framework of a great castle in the scenic heart of the Rockies.

The Floral Assets of the C.P.R.

Upper—Gardens and fountains at Kemsar Station. Lower—Woodstock Station grounds.

Flowers are among the assets of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It is the policy of the Company to establish permanent flower gardens at every station along the long line of track stretched across the continent.

In the very early days of the railroad the pioneers were too busy attending to the task of opening up new roads to give much attention to flowers, yet even back in the early days one of the C. P. R. employees produced a few varieties of flower seeds in his own plot and distributed them amongst his friends at some of the stations with the object of starting flower gardens along the line. This took place over 30 years ago, and to-day the Company spends a considerable amount producing and distributing seeds and shrubs of all kinds to station agents along the lines. The Company maintains a floral department with headquarters at the Windsor Street Station in Montreal.

In carrying out this work a great number of trees, seeds and perennial plants are used annually. Suitable trees such as ash, elm and maple, are supplied, and shrubbery such as honeysuckle, lilac, barberry, elder, spirea, weigela and many other varieties together with a long list of bed flowers. Vines are also supplied to cover buildings and fences surrounding stations. For this purpose Virginia clematis and Japanese ivy are considered best.

During the past thirty years the encouraging influence of the C. P. R. gardens has materially assisted in the inauguration of floral societies all over the country, many of the officials of the Company being members of these societies. It is pleasing to remember that the work in connection with the gardens is credited directly to the agents and employees of the station, for it is carried out mostly in their own time, through their enthusiasm in beautifying the stations of which they are in charge. The C. P. R. recognizes this effort and much interest is shown by the annual competitions on both eastern and western lines of this Company for the finest station gardens. Extensive layouts do not enter into the contest but the gardens that have shown the most improvement during the year are the ones that carry off the honors. Representatives from the floral department tour the lines each year, sizing up the gardens and deciding the winner. Substantial money prizes are awarded each year.

The floral department of the Canadian Pacific is constantly in touch with horticultural institutions, including agricultural colleges and societies, so that no stone is left unturned to keep up to the very latest standard.

CHAPTER II.—Continued

"Get along with you, Anna," said Maggie soothingly, "you're crazy. Be thankful you have a roof over your head and good money come in every month, and I'd advise you to stop all that wild talk or you'll get caught."

"Sure, that's a threat—shut your mouth or lose your job. We're slaves, every one of us. And you're not, too, but you love your chains."

"Well, slave or no slave, will you let me talk at the station?"

"No," said Anna, "I only recognize the claims of the Union. This girl is a war on as far as I am concerned, you religious stuff doesn't go with it. It's soothing sugar, that's all. This is war, Maggie, we might as well name it. It's war. Now go, and tell me how you like it."

Maggie Kenny looking after the least salience as she swept from the room, shook her head. "That's the devil's own talk," she said, "she won't see it. Well, she doesn't go to the train; I can get myself to give me a hand with the dinner, and she'll be here to do it well, and will make no complaint of it, either. She won't see it, but it's a grand woman she is, may be."

Mr. Spencer, when appealed to by her old friend and cook, readily agreed to cook the dinner. She had planned to go to a Tea at the Rectory to raise money for the Chinese, but she would send her sister instead, and, indeed, she confided to Maggie it was grand to get her hands into the pie crust again, and maybe it was just as good to do a kind turn for a Finn girl coming into the country as for a Chinese, and she was the problem of the new Finn girl did not bother her at all. "Any girl that will wash dishes and scrub floors can always find a place, and if she's civil and clean and honest she'll get on," said Mrs. Spencer. "So you can do with another now the Spring is here and we'll be turning out the bedrooms."

When Margaret Kenny got off the Broadway car opposite the station a crowd obstructed the traffic, and she, hunting, and unwilling, stepped into the street. Policemen on horseback shouted, whistles blew, impatient automobile horns gave back and forth, and every moment the crowd grew denser. Maggie, remembering her mission, kept on the edge of the whirlpool, wondering what was causing all the excitement. In a full in the commotion a man's voice fell on her ear, a hoarse voice,

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Read Mrs. Menard's Letter. Her Experience May Help

Clitham, Ontario.—"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done me. Before my baby came I felt so weak and run-down that I could hardly do my work. My head ached continually and I was so tired that I could not sleep. I was encouraged that I had a good morning's sleep. I had a good night's sleep and a half old and it gave me a lot to do. So I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I had read so much about it in the papers. I found a difference right away as my head was relieved and my tired feelings were gone. My sister had been doing my work and she continued doing it, as she said it might not be back if I started to do again. I sure did help me and I had taken just two bottles when my baby came. He is a fine big boy, and nearly five months old. I am taking your medicine again and I am sure it will help me. I always recommend the Vegetable Compound to women, and especially to expectant mothers. The letter they need help at those times."

ed" at that very moment Miss Anna Milander was looked in a cell at the central police station, charged with having maliciously and with intent to hurt hurled a stone at a policeman. Anna did not deny the charge; she was well pleased with her afternoon's work. She had struck a blow in Freedom's cause. It was all rather vague in Anna's mind. She was rather favorably disposed toward policemen as a class, but having joined the Union she was determined to become "class conscious." Policemen were enemies; so were employers; every one was an enemy except members of the Union. So Anna, having a clear program in her head, sat on her narrow bed in a warm cell, well content. Her picture would be in the paper; she would be praised by the workers. She had risen from the dull, gray, dusty depths of obscurity, while the speaker called the base of the economic pyramid, and in the interests of her comrades in the submerged masses had located an honest rock. More than that, it had gone unerringly to the mark, and the pride of achievement burned in Anna's heart. In the fulness of her contentment she sang:

"The banker calls it interest, and thinks the other way. The merchant calls it profit, and heaves a joyful sigh; The landlord calls it rentals, and he puts it in his bag. The great old home-burglar here has called it swag."

Though not related, Helmi and Anna bore the same name and resembled each other in features and coloring—the same creamy skin, reddish hair, brown eyes and general type. But at the moment they were in different in appearance owing to the different styles of dress. Helmi wore a coarse shirt, a print blouse, with leather belt, heavily loaded boots and heavy knitted stockings. Anna had been two years in Canada, had all ready acquired "style." She wore a narrow skirt, silk at the side, showing a flare of ermine petticoat, with a half-plumed eider, a beaded coat and Windsor tie, and silk stockings. The thought of having worn cotton stockings when she arrived in Canada gave her a smothered feeling now they were the brand of aristocratic "Bathings." She scornfully called them.

Remains of Old Settlement Found on Island Off Labrador

The existence of ancient ruins on Sculpin Island, 20 miles off Nfld. Labrador, is of interest, since there is no other instance in Canada of the occurrence of archaeological remains of European origin antedating the arrival of the French. The ruins, the Arctic Expedition and the associates of the Field Museum at Chicago, are of the opinion, after a careful examination, that the rock foundations of what appear to be ten or twelve houses are the remains of a Norse settlement at least a thousand years old. The elements are in no doubt regarding the purpose of the rock structures. While there are no inscriptions to prove their origin, the ruins have been built by the Vikings, never because they bear a striking resemblance to those explored recently by the same party in Greenland. There is every similarity, and only the archeologists are waiting to give proof positive.

The Eskimo traditions, handed down from father to son through many generations, is that the stone "houses" were built by men who came from the sea in boats. They call the place Taitvik, which in the Eskimo tongue signifies "the place of the Norsemen." The scientists are satisfied that the ruins have been there perhaps a thousand years.

To the average adult it comes with something of a shock when he finds it necessary to scrap certain long-cherished facts of knowledge. That one day, for instance, that has long been regarded as the epitome of North American history, crystallized quite respectably in the phrase, "Columbus discovered America in 1492," is so firmly imbedded in his consciousness of facts, that he hesitates to dislodge it. That it occurs in print in all school histories seems a sufficient justification for its unquestioned acceptance.

The Norsemen of today, particularly those in Canada and the United States, while admitting the historical significance of Columbus directed attention to the devastating consequences of his discovery in the trail, avowing with unshakable conviction that the 125,000,000 on this continent have more reason to be interested in Left than in Right.

Laughs at Superstition

Nothing in Story of Mummy Vengeance Says Howard Carter. Much has been written and said regarding the curses and evil influences surrounding ancient Egyptian tombs, about curses supposed to fall upon those who disturbed the slumbers of the dead.

Mr. Howard Carter, who figured prominently in connection with the tomb of Tutank-Amen, has some caustic remarks to make on this in the second volume of "The Tomb of Tutank-Amen," which has just been published by Messrs. Cassell. He laughs at the idea that "mysterious forces" called into being by some nabolic power, were present in the tomb to take vengeance on whomsoever should dare to pass its portals."

As a matter of fact, he says that it is curious to note that in the world free from risks than the tomb. When it was opened, scientific research proved it to be sterile."

The idea that a curse may rest on all who disturb a mummy, even after the lapse of thousands of years, is an old one, and has inspired more than one thrilling story. When we come to the realm of fact, as distinct from fiction, however, the most we can find is a curious coincidence or two.

Even the famous mummy in the British Museum, which is said to have brought disaster to all who had anything to do with it, has perhaps been somewhat overrated. Possibly many of the stories told about it have no better foundation than the one circulated after the Titanic disaster.

It was said that the mummy had been secretly sold to an American collector, who sailed for home with his prize on the doomed liner. Unfortunately for a picturesque yarn, the mummy is not at the bottom of the Atlantic, but still part of the property of the nation.

Chief Presents Human Skulls to British Officer

The presentation of 25 human skulls to a British official officer formed part of a ceremony described by the Pioneer's special correspondent with the expedition dispatched to the Naga Hills, which has for its object the persuading of native rulers to abandon the practice of human sacrifice.

Five hundred chiefs, who had already been visited and had had time to consider their promise to abolish slavery and sacrifice, attended a banquet (festival) at which 25 buffaloes were killed to provide a slight feast.

Three tall poles, painted black and white and decorated with flowers, were erected in the centre of a cleared ring, and round these women danced to the music of crude gongs.

The leader, carrying a basket and a staff, portrayed the sowing and harvesting of crops.

Meanwhile a priest retired and "communed with the spirits" in a long-drawn-out manner. The priest then, he led to the mounds of pots and despatched by the priest with spear-thrusts, having been anointed with holy water.

It was definitely decided that in future the chiefs will sacrifice bulls to the spirits instead of human beings.

Forty Nages then presented the 22 skulls of human victims of sacrifice to the civil officer.

Says Prison Reform

Carried to Extreme

Jails as Comfortable as Hotels Says Chief of Detectives in Quebec. Asserting that criminals of Canada and the United States no longer fear prison terms, George S. Blouin, chief of detectives in Quebec, paper "moleheaded" of criminals in a paper read at the convention of police chiefs in Windsor.

"The crook went on to say that prison reform had been carried to a ridiculous extreme, and that many prisons in home countries cannot be found in comfort."

"The crook goes a better break than victims of his violence," the Quebec chief detective said. "He is let loose on society after his sentence is completed, and the worst that happens to him when he gets out is to be sent back to the same place as he was when he was in."

Saying that records prove that 70 per cent of the criminals who have been convicted three times or more go back to their crooked detest when they are freed, Detective Blouin declared that no amount of sentimentalism or "job stuff" is going to save the minds of the world.

First Electric Street Car

Operated at St. Catharines, Ont.

George E. Patterson, builder of the first electric car operated in the world, died recently in Pasadena, Calif. In 1874 he established a carriage building business in St. Catharines, Ont., and later constructed street cars, the firm being known as Patterson and Corbin. It was one of his street cars, converted into an electric car, that was operated in 1887 between St. Catharines and Thorold. Five years ago he retired from active business at the age of 82.

A GREAT PUZZLE

TO CAREFUL PARENTS

One of the greatest puzzles to the careful parent is to know just what medicine to give the little ones. When child falls ill with griping pains, is seized with cold or fever, refuses food or vomits what has been taken, when he cries a great deal and cannot rest the sleep so necessary to the growing child, the parent is in a quandary. What is to be done or such occasions? As often as not there is not a suitable medicine in the home. This puzzle is what to give him to set him right quickly.

It is to be noted that these emergencies that attend childhood, which are so distressing, these pleasant little Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion and allay teething pains. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless and safe for even the youngest and most delicate baby.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by druggists or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Refuses to Pay Fees

Reason Elevation of Lord Byng Has Not Been Gasetted

The vicereine conferred on Lord Byng in October last on his retirement from the governorship of Canada, has not yet been gazetted and the delay is believed to be due to the high cost of fees for gazettement, a pension or elevation therein, which Lord Byng refuses to pay. This runs anything between $230 and $270, according to the grade. Lord Byng is following the example of other soldiers who received honors in recognition of their war services in declining to pay for his elevation.

Corns are caused by the pressure of tight boots, but no one need be troubled with them long when so simple a remedy as Holloway's Corn Remover is available.

Record of War Service. The devotion of the Prussian "steel helmets" to the Holstenians is really very hard to understand. The family's record of war services is a very poor one. The Kaiser ran away. The Crown Prince earned the reputation of a gay scoundrel. Ethel stone is the daughter of the country houses of private citizens. — London Sunday Pictorial.

Lived 30,000,000 Years Ago. One of the world's largest dinosaurs (Toriolonia), which died about 30,000,000 years ago, is to be put on its legs again at the Natural History Museum, South Kensington. The Toriolonia lived in the estuaries of rivers, laid eggs, and ate floating vegetation. It was about fifty feet long and thirty feet high, and weighed something like ten tons. Its bones were found in Tanganyika.

Among those who didn't see the big police parade was the man who bigged a store while it was taking place.

Little Helps For This Week

Vouchsafe, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin.—To Deum.

Dear Lord, Thou bringest back the morn;

Thy children wait; Thy children pray;

Oh! make our souls divinely yearn.

Four Thy best beauty on the day;

Lend our slow feet that speed of Thine;

Our busy hands from evil stay;

Lord, help us still to tasks divine,

Still keep us in the heavenly way.

The weeklings plead; the sinners pray;

But, Lord, Thy grace exceeds our sin;

We cannot ask too bright a day;

Too much of Thee we cannot win.

—Thomas Hornblower Gill

Let it be our happiness this day

to add to the happiness of those around us, to comfort some sorrow, to relieve some want,

to add some strength to our neighbor's virtue.

William Milner Channing

"As far back as I can remember I had eczema. Practically my entire body was covered with it. It broke out in a fine rash which as I grew older developed into pimples and blisters. As a child I used to scratch it until it would bleed, and the burning and smarting were terrible. My mother was a great sufferer from eczema and in three months I was completely healed." The Public Utilities Commission, of Edmonton, opened the postponed hearing in Coleman on Wednesday morning, to deal with the application of the Coleman Light & Water Company for an increase in rates. National Thanksgiving Service

Commandments of the Lord thy God, to walk in His ways and to fear Him. For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land; a land of brooks of water, of fountains, and depths that spring out of the valleys and hills. A land of wheat, and barley and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil, olive and honey. A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness; thou shalt not lack anything in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass. When thou has eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which He hath given thee. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping His commandments, and His judgments and His statutes.—Deut. 8: 6-11.

2. Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be My people; and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.—Jer. 7: 23.

3. Honor thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deut. 5: 16.

4. And what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.—Micah. 6: 8.

5. If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday; and the Lord shall guide thee continually.—Isa. 58: 10-11.

6. These are the Statutes and Judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the Lord God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth.—Deut. 12: 1.

Those Who Died in the War
The next item in the service is a reading commemorative of those whose lives have been given in the country's service:

"On this day of national thanksgiving it is especially appropriate that we should keep in remembrance those brave men and women who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of our country. We cannot more worthily commemorate their memory than in prayer that we, the living, may derive strength and courage to hold fast the principles of service and freedom for which they died."

Here the Last Post will be sounded, to be followed by a minute of silence. At the conclusion will be the hymn, "O Valiant Hearts, Who to Your Glory Came."

For Divine Guidance
A prayer for divine guidance in the government of our land follows, with the 67th Psalm: "God be-merciful unto us."

The concluding portions of the service will be the hymn "From Ocean to Ocean Our Land Own Thee Lord," followed by the National Anthem, "O Canada" and "God Save the King."
